

Dear partners,

University of Maribor and University of Zagreb organise the Out of the Box Summer School titled »What is waste and what to do with it?« in Motovun, Croatia, from September 1-13, 2013. We invite your MA and PhD students of all fields to share their ideas on the topic with us and students from other countries. Please, spread the news among your students. For more information, please click the link: <http://summer.outofthebox.si/> and you will be able to see the programme, conditions for participation, etc. We suggest to you to inform the students of a preference of up to five students per university. We expect them to write a motivation letter and a short essay on the topic of waste (as you can see from the mentioned website). Accommodation and meals are provided by the organisers and there is no tuition fee!!

Lecturers will be from various universities, which you can also see from the website above.

Yours,

University of Maribor
